November 2006 Order Comments:

Order growth remained solid for the three months ended in November. Emerson's international presence, with nearly 50 percent of 2006 sales outside the United States, has provided balance to our growth as discussed in the November conference call. Current order trends match expectations, as international strength from Europe, Asia and Latin America continued to offset domestic order growth moderation. Favorable currency exchange rates contributed approximately 2 percentage points to the increase.

Process Management orders remained strong driven by capital spending in the global energy markets. Technology leadership and a strong global presence have continued to benefit this business.

Orders for Industrial Automation remained strong. Growth for this segment was led by the power generating alternator and electronic drives businesses.

Network Power order growth for the three months ended in November increased to the 10 to 15 percent range driven by strength from the uninterruptible power supply (UPS), precision cooling and China power systems businesses.

Climate Technologies order trends remained negative due to tough comparisons for the North American residential air-conditioning business. Order growth in Europe was strong for this segment and trends in Asia are positive.

Appliance and Tools order growth remained in the 0 to 5 percent range. Modest growth from the tools and storage businesses offset softness from the motors and appliance businesses.
