Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

The following information is furnished pursuant to Regulation FD.

March 2009 Order Comments:

The trailing three-month order rate for Emerson was down 25 to 30 percent, with currency exchange rates negatively impacting orders by approximately 7 percentage points. In the trailing three-month period, we have seen orders decline in excess of real underlying end-market demand levels. This has been driven by backlog liquidation, reductions in channel inventories, and reduced lead times across the markets served by Emerson. This is supported by our own liquidation of inventory as evidenced by a decrease of over $200 million from December 31, 2008 to March 31, 2009.

We have seen a sequential improvement in our underlying orders from the month of February to March and believe the orders are beginning to adjust closer to real end-market demand levels. For the month of March, underlying orders were down in the 15 to 20 percent range, excluding a negative 3 percentage point currency impact, and were down 20 to 25 percent overall.

Process Management orders declined and were down 25 to 30 percent overall against a difficult comparison to the same prior year period. Currency exchange rates had a negative impact of approximately 14 percentage points on the order growth, including a negative backlog revaluation impact due to the stronger U.S. dollar. Order rates remained mixed among end-markets, with strength in the power market partially offsetting weakness in the chemical and refining markets.

Broad weakness across capital-related end markets continued to negatively impact order rates for Industrial Automation.

Strength in the China power systems business was more than offset by weakness across the balance of the Network Power business segment.

Order trends for Climate Technologies continued to be negatively impacted by weakness across global served markets.

While order rates for Appliance and Tools were weak, the consumer-related businesses of this segment seem to be stabilizing, although at low end-market demand levels.

EMERSON REPORTS SECOND QUARTER 2009 RESULTS

- Sales of $5.1 billion
- Earnings per share of $0.49
- Full-year 2009 outlook reaffirmed

ST. LOUIS, May 5, 2009 – Emerson (NYSE: EMR) announced net sales for the second quarter ended March 31, 2009 of $5.1 billion, a decrease of 16 percent compared with $6.0 billion in the prior year quarter. Earnings from continuing operations for the quarter declined 38 percent to $373 million, or $0.49 per share. This represents a 35 percent decline in earnings per share from continuing operations versus $0.75 earned in the same period last year. Higher restructuring expenses negatively impacted the earnings per share comparison by $0.04 per share. Including the negative $0.06 per share impact from discontinued operations in the second quarter of 2008, net earnings per share declined 29 percent.

Underlying sales (which exclude acquisitions, divestitures and foreign currency translation) decreased 11 percent in the quarter with currency exchange rates having an additional unfavorable impact of 5 percent. While the slowdown has affected markets globally, underlying sales in the quarter in emerging markets continued to hold up better than mature markets, with a decline of only 1 percent. Geographically, underlying sales in the United States and Europe declined 19 percent and 10 percent respectively, Asia increased 1 percent, Middle East/Africa increased 3 percent and Latin America declined 1 percent.

"Emerson has faced a dramatic and challenging change in market conditions when compared with the same quarter of 2008," said Chairman, CEO and President David N. Farr. "The global recession has significantly reduced demand across all of our business segments. Although we have acted decisively to adjust to the decline in market demand, our margins have been affected by the sales decline and aggressive inventory reductions, as well as the increased costs of broad-based restructuring initiatives.

"The actions that we are taking are intended to improve our global best cost structure, drive innovation, and encourage entrepreneurial thinking throughout Emerson.

Our financial position remains strong, and we are providing our management team with the resources, support, and strategic acquisitions needed to improve our competitive position for when the economy returns to growth and for the long term."

Operating profit margin for the second quarter declined to 14.1 percent from 16.4 percent in the prior year period. The operating margin declined primarily due to deleverage on lower sales volume, unfavorable product mix, and significant inventory reductions, partially offset by cost containment actions. Pretax earnings margin decreased to 10.8 percent from 14.5 percent in the prior year quarter primarily due to significantly higher restructuring costs.

Segment Highlights

Process Management sales decreased 4 percent in the quarter, due to the stronger U.S. dollar. Underlying sales grew 3 percent on top of a double-digit increase in the prior year quarter, and currency translation negatively impacted sales by 7 percent. Underlying sales growth was strong internationally, with Asia up 21 percent in the quarter. The margin for Process Management declined 100 basis points to 16.9 percent with unfavorable product mix partially offset by cost reduction efforts. Continued investments were made in next-generation technology programs and global infrastructure expansion. In April, Emerson completed the acquisition of Roxar ASA, a leading global supplier of measurement solutions and software for reservoir production optimization, enhanced oil and gas recovery and flow assurance. Roxar broadens the solutions portfolio offered by Emerson Process Management for oil and gas exploration and production applications.

Industrial Automation revenues declined 18 percent in the quarter with 15 percent underlying sales deterioration, unfavorable currency translation of 5 percent and a 2 percent favorable impact from the System Plast and Trident Power acquisitions. Sales declines were broad-based across geographies and businesses within this segment, reflecting the significant slowdown of capital-related end markets.

The acquisition of Trident Power in February, a power-generating alternator manufacturer based in India, further strengthens Emerson's market and technology leadership position in the global alternator market. The profit margin for Industrial Automation decreased 440 basis points to 10.1 percent from the prior year quarter, reflecting the volume deleverage as well as negative product mix.

Network Power sales declined 16 percent in the quarter, which included an underlying sales decrease of slightly less than 10 percent, a negative 4 percent impact from currency translation and an unfavorable impact of 2 percent from the Embedded Computing acquisition. Underlying growth remained positive across all major geographic areas outside of the United States and Europe, with strength continuing in the China power systems business. Profitability for this segment declined to 8.2 percent from 12.3 percent in the prior year quarter, with volume deleverage, dilution from acquisitions and increased restructuring of $25 million negatively impacting the margin.

Climate Technologies sales declined 23 percent in the second quarter, amid continued weakness in the residential, commercial and refrigeration end markets.

Underlying sales decreased 21 percent and currency translation negatively impacted sales by 2 percent. The margin for this segment declined to 9.0 percent, versus 14.9 percent in the same prior year quarter due to volume deleverage and price / cost pressures.

Appliance and Tools sales decreased 24 percent in the quarter. Underlying sales decreased 23 percent, with currency translation subtracting 1 percent. Weakness continued broadly across the businesses within this segment. Margin declined to 8.4 percent from 14.6 percent in the prior year quarter due primarily to increased restructuring of $10 million as well as deleverage from lower sales volume.

Balance Sheet / Cash Flow

Operating cash flow was $499 million in the second quarter of 2009, compared to $748 million in the prior year period, principally due to lower earnings and a $74 million net increase in pension funding. Free cash flow (operating cash flow less capital expenditures) was $359 million and free cash flow was 96 percent of net earnings.

Inventory was reduced sequentially by over $200 million from the first quarter. Since the beginning of the second quarter of 2009, the company issued $1.25 billion in long-term debt and repaid $250 million of mature debt to further strengthen the balance sheet and liquidity position of the company.

"During the second quarter we saw rapid deterioration in our end-markets and took quick action to significantly reduce production and our inventory levels," Farr said. "While this had a detrimental effect on operating margin in the second quarter, we believe it was important to reduce our production levels by more than the sales decline. I am encouraged by the inventory reduction we have been able to achieve over the quarter and our goal is to achieve a similar inventory dollar reduction over the balance of the year. This will put us on the path to meeting our cash flow targets for the fiscal year. We have also been able to opportunistically issue long-term debt allowing continued balance sheet flexibility.

"I am confident that we will continue to generate substantial cash flow from operations, and will recommend today that our Board of Directors and Finance Committee approve another thirty-three cents ($0.33) per share quarterly dividend. This is ten percent higher than the thirty cents ($0.30) per share paid in the second fiscal quarter of 2008."

2009 Outlook

Business conditions remain very challenging globally, consistent with those communicated in the April 7, 2009 investor update conference call, and the 2009 guidance remains unchanged. Emerson still expects underlying sales to decline 9 to 11 percent from 2008 levels, a 5 percent unfavorable impact from currency translation and a 1 percent favorable impact from completed acquisitions resulting in a net sales decline in the range of 13 to 15 percent to $21.0 to $21.7 billion. The full-year earnings per share target remains $2.40 to $2.60. Operating profit margin and pretax margin are still expected to be in the range of 15.7 to 16.0 percent and 12.6 to 13.2 percent respectively. The fiscal 2009 operating cash flow target remains $3.1 to $3.3 billion and the free cash flow target remains $2.5 to $2.7 billion. The company continues to expect to spend approximately $200 to $250 million on restructuring in fiscal 2009.
